Course Description

The User Story course is intended for editors gathering technical requirements in order to automate a process.

It covers the preparatory work required to create projects, epics, user stories and related settings. Topics covered include:

- User Stories Overview

- Administration

- User Story creation

- Importing Data Specifications

- Agile development

      - Projects

      - Epics

      - Settings

This course assumes that you will be using the Design component of Navvia as an integral part of your project and will reference the tool capabilities.

Course Material

Related course material can be accessed by clicking here

Objectives

- Understand what user stories, projects and epics are

- Tips for creating a user story using a persona and from a user's perspective

- Learn how to create stand-alone user stories and those related to a project or epic

- Learn to associate items to a user story

- Learn how to export and share the user story

Navvia.com
United States: 9075 Bluffview Trace, Roswell, GA 30076
Canada: 2100 Bloor Street West, Suite 201, Toronto, Ontario, Canada M6S 1M7

Duration

This recording is approximately 50 mins in length.

Target Audience

Process Owners and Champions working with technical teams to gather technical requirements from the business in order to automate a process.

Prerequisites

There are no mandatory prerequisites.

Navvia.com

United States: 9075 Bluffview Trace, Roswell, GA 30076
Canada: 2100 Bloor Street West, Suite 201, Toronto, Ontario, Canada M6S 1M7